

Your Personal Love and Relating Report

Love, Relating, Sensuality, Sexual Chemistry

For: EXAMPLE USER Date of birth: 21st September 1977 at 8:30 AM Place of birth: San Francisco

The way that you approach relationships and the kind of qualities that you should look for in a partner is described in this report.

Just as there is more to you than just your Sun sign, there can be many reasons why someone is on your wavelength. To discover who you are in tune with, and why, the Soul Mate Report describes not only your Sun sign, but your Moon sign, your Venus sign and your Mars sign as well. All these different aspects of your nature contribute to the unique individual that is you, and show why you may get different things from different people.

While your Sun sign shows your conscious personality and who you get on with when it comes to basic traits of character, your Moon sign shows another, far more hidden aspect of your nature - your unconscious instincts and emotions. The way that you relate to others when it comes to passion and romance, and the people you are drawn to and are naturally in tune with on a sexual level, are shown by your Mars and Venus signs. The four elements - fire, earth, air and water - also play an important role in who you are in tune with.

So if you find someone attractive, even though their Sun is not in tune with yours, other links between your Moon or Mars signs, for example, could turn out to be the explanation. So concentrate on the type of person someone is, not just on their Sun sign.

The Sun

Your zodiac Sun sign describes your basic character and orientation, your will, your goals and purpose in life. Your Sun also represents your conscious self, and links between your Sun and someone else's Sun or planets, show a natural affinity between you, as people. Emotional, romantic and sexual affinities are shown by your Moon, Venus and Mars signs.

Sun in Virgo

Earth

With the Sun in Virgo, you have a practical and down to earth approach towards existence. You do not see the people you are drawn to through rose-tinted glasses, but accept them as they are. Nor do you enjoy displays of powerful emotion, which can make you feel hemmed in or threatened. In fact, you distrust people who profess to feel a great deal more than you believe they really do, and you are not easily deceived by the romantic image they project. But you are an idealist and a perfectionist and you will work tirelessly to make a close relationship into something real and lasting. For you have enormous sympathy and great compassion for the sufferings of others and you are always willing to offer those you care for real, practical support.

As opposites attract, it is those with the Sun or other planets in Pisces, your opposing sign, that your Sun is most in tune with. You can recognize the Pisces type by their sensitivity and their dreamy, gentle nature. Where you focus on the details and on how you can make progress in the real world, they focus on emotions and on seeing the whole picture. Your enormous kindness and your practical support are just what Pisces needs to feel secure enough to use their great creative powers, while Pisces, in return, gives you limitless compassion and real gentleness and warmth.

With the Sun in Virgo, you will also be on the same wavelength as those with the Sun, Moon or planets in Virgo, or in the other earth signs, Capricorn and Taurus. Like you, these people focus on the here and now and have a down to earth approach to love. You share many values and ideals with them, and you can count on their loyalty and perseverance. However, relationships with other earth signs can lack the magic and the mystery that a loving and compassionate Piscean can offer.

The Moon

While the Sun shows your conscious personality and sense of self, the Moon reveals your more feminine, unconscious side, your instincts, your emotions and your past. In a woman's chart it also shows her particular type of femininity and her ability to give, and to receive, real nurturing and caring. In a man's chart, it reveals his feminine side, of which he may be less aware, as well as the kind of woman he feels drawn to and can care for on a true emotional level.

Moon in Capricorn

Earth

With the Moon in Capricorn, you may seem reserved, or even cool to those who do not know you well. But when you feel that you can trust someone and let down your defences, your real loyalty and warmth come through. Because you have been hurt, you have learned the value of true caring and compassion and you have a powerful instinct to protect those more vulnerable than you are. To those you care for, you are a rock and a safe haven, but accepting help from others can be harder for you, as you do not like to show your weaknesses and so tend to hide behind your strong facade. Nor do you like displays of gushy sentiment. Actions speak louder than words for those with the Moon in realistic Capricorn and you instinctively distrust people who profess too much.

A woman with the Moon in Capricorn is naturally in tune with men who share her realistic earth sign orientation and who have similar priorities, emotions and desires to hers. These men may have the Sun in Taurus, Capricorn or Virgo, or may just exhibit all the earth sign traits, as they have other planets in these signs. They are strong, reliable and down to earth with a powerful love nature. However, as opposites attract, a woman with the Moon here is often drawn to sensitive, emotional Cancer types. Where you are reserved, determined and down to earth, with a well-developed sense of duty and commitment, they are intuitive and have enormous depths of feeling. This can be a perfect match, however, as the Cancer type's ability to feel, and show emotion, and to nurture others, creates the perfect setting for you to relax and show your feelings. In turn, the Moon in Capricorn brings stability, security and real containment to gentle and emotional Cancer.

A man's Moon sign is one of the two most important indicators of the kind of women with whom he feels in tune. With the Moon in Capricorn, he will be attracted to women with a Capricorn Sun or Moon, or who show strong Capricornian traits. However, he may well be less consciously aware of this side of his nature than a woman with the Moon here, as he 'finds' his Moon, his feminine and hidden side, in the Capricornian women he is drawn to.

Venus

For both sexes, the Venus sign reveals the more passive, affectionate, romantic and feminine side of the way we love. It's our style of relating to others and the way we attract them to us.

In a woman's chart, her Venus sign also describes her special brand of femininity, and how she puts herself across to people she is drawn to.

In a man's chart, his Venus sign also reveals the kind of women that he finds attractive and most often gets romantically and sexually involved with.

Venus in Leo

Fire

There is nothing mean or petty about you or your emotions. Passion, in the grand, old-fashioned style, is what you are after. In fact, the term, 'grand passion', was probably invented by someone with a Leo Venus. You will never settle for someone who does not match the regal prince, or princess, of your dreams. And your dreams are always more dramatic and flamboyant, than those of lesser mortals. Of course, finding someone who lives up to your expectations is not easy, but that does not deter you. You are a great romantic, and when your current idol turns out to have feet of clay - which can happen fast if they restrict or bore you - you will keep on looking. Anyhow, you have lots of fun along the way and anyone you are involved with can expect to do so too, as you are as lavish with your money as you are with your affections. Grand gestures, huge bouquets and expensive dinners are your stock in trade and you will leave no stone unturned to please your loved one. But you do expect their heart-felt gratitude - and admiration - in return.. When you do find someone who really makes the grade, you are fiercely loyal. However, those who like the limelight, or who prefer to call the tune, would be foolish to apply.

Your Venus in Sextile with Your Jupiter

You are an optimist, and you love all of life's pleasures and are very creative. Maybe you have a special interest in history of art and express yourself through art, philosophy or ethics. Professionally, you may deal with art and/or nutrition. Because you enjoy decorating your home and can offer useful suggestions for alterations on the apartments of your friends, you could turn your technical talents and gift for drawing into a career as an interior decorator. This aspect also gives a warm and melodious singing voice. Your relationships are generally harmonious and peaceful, as you know how to please others and you can also show a great deal of understanding for people plagued by misfortune. Your sensitivity and refined manners are largely responsible for your popularity.

Your Venus in Conjunction with Your Saturn

You are level-headed, down to earth and balanced in your outlook on the world. Both emotionally and financially, what you build is built to last and close relationships are likely to be stable and long-lasting. You do not show your feelings lightly, and you don't go in for lavish gestures, but when you make a real commitment, it is definitely for keeps. Your tranquil disposition also makes it easy for you to fit in with others and you can create a peaceful and harmonious atmosphere around you.

Your Venus in Sextile with Your Ascendant

Venus in sextile with your ascendant gives great charm and magnetism to your personality. You are popular wherever you may go, which is what you need and crave for, as all you really want is to be accepted. Which means that you will go far to avoid conflict, even if it does not really suit your interests to stand back. You also enjoy the good things in life, you will do everything you can to make yourself comfortable and enjoy yourself as much as possible. You may well make a career for yourself in the arts.

While your Venus Sign - and any links it makes with other planets in your birth chart - show how you love, the house it falls in shows the area of your life where it manifests most strongly.

Venus in the Tenth House

The tenth house represents our public image, our career and standing in the world. It also shows how we project ourselves to others. With Venus here, you have a glamorous persona and others are drawn to you by your confidence and charm. How others see you is important to you, and you are diplomatic, practical and focused, which makes you an ideal partner. You may well get involved with someone who you work with, or share career ambitions with them.

Love and Relating

Remember that someone may show strong Gemini or Taurus traits, for instance, perhaps because they have the Moon or Venus in that sign, but have the Sun in quite another zodiac sign.

Venus in Leo with:

Fiery, pioneering Aries:

High drama and romance, with all the extras. They can match your enthusiasm and your love of life like nobody else can, but is your love really of this world?

Down to earth and loyal Taurus:

A strong physical attraction. Like you, they seek pleasure and luxurious living and you appreciate their strength, their warmth and their straightforward way of loving.

Quick-witted, restless Gemini:

Great for going out and having fun, they know how to interest and amuse you, but they do not share your passionate and romantic nature - nor do they understand it.

Sensitive, maternal Cancer:

You find them soothing, and they can be the perfect foil to your dramatic, extroverted side, as they understand the insecurities you hide.

Dramatic and romantic Leo:

You know each other at a glance and admire and respect each other. This can be the most dynamic of all combinations, but there can be problems about who takes center stage.

Cool, realistic Virgo:

With them by your side, you can put your grand plan into action and make things happen in the real world, as they are happy just to help you, and they will stand by you.

Romantic and sophisticated Libra:

They know how to please you and will always let you shine. This is the stuff that dreams are made of, as you both understand the meaning - and the pleasures - of romance.

Intense, passionate Scorpio:

This combination is hot, exciting and explosive. You have met your match, indeed you may have problems handling the powerful emotions that can be unleashed.

Adventurous, idealistic Sagittarius:

Guaranteed adventure and exciting new horizons - they could take you to Shangri La and back in what cannot fail to be an action-packed and memorable encounter.

Reserved and loyal Capricorn:

You are both strong-willed and together you can achieve great things. They are a lot more reserved than you are, but they could surprise you with their passion.

Idealistic and free-thinking Aquarius:

You find their cool, detached allure an exciting challenge. They have a lot to offer - and to teach you - once you accept their need for space and time alone.

Sensitive and dreamy Pisces:

You both love glamour and romance and will soon leave the mundane world behind you as you sail into the sunset. You could find them hyper-sensitive at times, however.

Mars

Your Mars Sign

Mars is the planet that rules sexuality. For both sexes, the Mars sign describes the more active, masculine side of the love nature. However, for a man, the Mars sign also describes his type of masculinity and drive, as well as how he puts himself across in romantic situations. In a woman's chart, her Mars sign also shows the kind of man that she feels drawn to and is sexually in tune with.

Mars in Cancer

Water

On the surface, masculine and fiery Mars is not at ease in feminine, home-loving Cancer, and, as a man, you certainly do not project a macho image. But the real plus side of Mars in Cancer is the sensitivity and real compassion that you bring to your close bonds with others. Nor does your gentleness imply that you are weak. Very much the opposite, in fact, for you do not feel the need to hide behind a tough facade, nor to try to dominate the people you become involved with. You love home life and family ties are all-important to you. For you, romance is seeing roses you have planted bloom around the door and sharing all the joys and sorrows that the day can bring with someone close. Of all the Mars signs, Cancer is the most protective of its loved ones, and you will fight against the odds to keep the people whom you care for from all harm. And, in the safe haven that you know how to create, they can relax and be themselves, letting their real feelings show.

Men with Mars in Cancer are often drawn to people with the Sun, or other planets, such as Venus, in Capricorn, Cancer's opposing sign, or to Scorpio or Pisces types.

Women with Mars in Cancer are sexually and emotionally drawn to people who have the Sun or Mars in Cancer.

Mars in the Ninth House

With the action planet, Mars, in the ninth house of your chart, you are always on the go and have a powerful urge to travel and to broaden your horizons. You are an adventurer, ever on the look out for new lands to conquer and fresh peaks to climb. You are also just as freedom-loving and adventurous when it comes to matters of the heart, and you can find it hard to settle in one place, or with one person. But you are as idealistic as they come, as well, and discovering the meaning of existence also comes high up on your agenda. With Mars here, you may well find your soul mate in a foreign country, or prefer to live abroad. In a woman's chart, this also tends to be the kind of personality she is naturally drawn to and finds most sexually attractive.

Fire, Earth, Air, Water

The four elements - fire, earth, air and water - also play a large part in determining our natural soul mates. Count how many planets you have in each element - the signs and their elements are listed below. If, for instance, the majority of the planets in your birth chart are in earth signs, you will feel naturally in tune with those who share your emphasis on earth. However, you may also be strongly attracted to people who have what you lack - if most of your planets are in earth signs, but you lack water, you may be drawn to someone who has a lot of planets in water signs. Also, if you do have the majority of your planets in earth signs, but you have Mars and Venus in water, your earth sign orientation may well override your Mars and Venus signs at times.

Fire

Aries, Leo, Sagittarius

Fire is the element of spirit, warmth and life and those with fire predominating in their charts are famous for their powerful imagination and their zest for living. When it comes to the emotional realm, they are adventurous, dramatic and flamboyant, and lavish gestures and grand passions are their stock in trade. But they can have problems concentrating on the here and now, as the future, not the present or the past, is what concerns them. And, because their imagination is so vivid, they can find it hard to tell the difference between dreams and fantasies and their real feelings - or to settle down to what they see as dull routine.

Earth

Taurus, Virgo, Capricorn

For those with earth predominating in their charts, the here and now and what is real are all-important. What is happening around them - and everything that they can see and touch - is what concerns them. They do not have much time for abstract thought or what they see as idle dreams and their idea of love is down to earth. They can lack imagination, but they more than compensate for that as they are stable, loyal, lovers who know how to nurture those they care for. The whole realm of the senses also falls in their domain.

Air

Gemini, Libra, Aquarius

Air is the element of abstract thought and of communication. For those with air predominating in their charts, real intellectual rapport with those they are involved with is essential. Security and sensuality take second place to finding someone they can talk to - in fact, the whole realm of emotion can be threatening to them and they often give it a wide berth - which is even true of the romantic sign of Libra. As a result, they can seem fickle, as their natural curiosity and need for mental stimulation drives them on to look for new horizons.

Water

Cancer, Scorpio, Pisces

As water is the element of feeling and emotion, those with many planets in the water signs are more at home in the emotional realm than others. They are not phased by passionate displays of feeling - in fact, they can grow bored when life is too plain sailing. Intuitive to the point of being psychic, they are also prone to ever-changing moods. They have no time for casual relationships, as they are great romantics and love, for them, is all or nothing.
